ROOTED CUTTINGS

Ready for delivery July 1st through September. Our Azalea Cuttings are propagated in a medium that runs heavy to peat and this gives them a thrifty and vigorous root system. No cuttings are sent out without a good bunch of roots. Our list on these will be ready for you in June.

LINING-OUT STOCK . . .

Ready for delivery practically the entire year. Best suggested for Spring delivery—March through June. Our Azalea Liners are grown in specially prepared beds of shredded peat and they are never allowed to slow down or become hardened. They have a good lot of very-much-alive healthy roots that hold a quantity of our fibrous peat; not only is this very helpful to them in shipment but it gets them off to a quick start after you plant them. We call special attention to our 3" to 5", and 4" to 6" growing-on stock listed on Page 6.

Also see Page 6 for the new variety HOLIDAY.

DORMANT, BUDDED STOCK FOR FORCING . . .

For Fall and Winter Delivery. Our budded Azaleas have a very heavy bud-count and are extra nice this year. They have been properly spaced for an even growth and have been sheared carefully to make nice pot plants. All of these are grown in mixtures that run heavy to peat and many are grown on our peat farm in full sunlight. This assures you that they will have a good root system, that they will carry well in shipment and that the transportation costs will not be excessive.

LANDSCAPE WORK
in the SOUTH

We recommend Southern-grown, large-flowering Indica Azaleas.

*W*E have a nice block of plants, which are very showy and good landscape material for our patrons in the Southern States. These are being grown on our peat farm and we believe the bud-count will make them outstanding. We are not equipped to crate these but we can send them out in truck or trailer loads, and this method of transportation is available locally, if you wish us to arrange delivery for you. We allow a 10% discount on plants that are loaded at the nursery and do not have to be crated. Since it is necessary to move this stock in before Winter, this discount applies to material that is shipped on or before October 15th.
